PALESTINE TO GO UNDER OPEN PORT LAW!

STATEWIDE FLOOD CONTROL MEETING WACO AUGUST 16

Following Meetings at Wharton, Cameron, Bryan and Austin the Waco Conference Will Decide On a Legislative Program For Texas—Legislature Invited To Waco Conference.

(Special to the Bryan Eagle)

Fort Worth, Texas, Aug. 10.—The West Texas Chamber of Commerce through General Manager Homer D. Wade has invited Representative Lee J. Rountree, of Brazos county, to issue invitations to the members of the 37th and 38th legislatures to attend the State-Wide Flood Control Conference at Waco on August 16. Representative Rountree, who is one of the organizers of the Brazos River Reclamation Association has issued the following statement to the members of the Texas legislature: "I earnestly urge you to attend the state-wide flood control conference at Waco on Aug. 16 which call has been issued by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and joined in by the Colorado River Flood Control Association, the Brazos River Reclamation Association, the Engineers' Conference called at Austin by Governor Neff and all other flood control associations in Texas. No more important and far reaching movement has ever been inaugurated in Texas calling for a platform demand of the democratic party at San Antonio on September 5 and legislative appropriations in January 1923. It is not necessary for me to set forth the great needs of the reclamation work in Texas involving the impounding of our flood waters, the reclamation of the low lands on the Colorado, Brazos, Red River, Rio Grande, Trinity and other Texas streams and the levying of the overflow lands, the richest in the world if properly protected. I join in this personal appeal to you to come to Waco on August 16 and let us reason and counsel together in the great constructive work that now confronts us. I feel sure that you will be there and shall expect to meet you in behalf of these Associations in Texas. I bid you welcome and join you in the tasks that confront us and must be solved to prevent great disaster to many of our fellow citizens." This state wide meeting follows the recent district meetings at Wharton, Bryan, Cameron and the Engineers' Conference called by Governor Neff at Austin on August 7. This meeting at Waco will adopt a legislative plan for the state democratic convention and the Texas legislature.

There were 223 white male babies died under one year of age and 176 females; 28 negro male and 14 female. Two white men and three negro men over 100 years of age died during the month. There were three white women over 100 years that died during the month. Tuberculosis caused the greatest number of deaths, there being 338. There were 158 deaths from accidents, 44 from homicides with firearms and 10 homicides of other causes.

COTTON MARKET

Cotton futures closed 50 points up and middling cotton sold at 21 cents. About 25 bales have been marketed by Bryan for the 1922 crop. Six bales were sold here Wednesday. The dry weather is causing cotton to open at a rapid rate in Brazos county.

Dunn & O'Sullivan Hanged For Wilson Assassination

(By Associated Press)

London, Aug. 10.—Joseph O'Sullivan and Reginald Dunn were hanged this morning in Wandsworth prison for assassination of Field Marshall Sir Henry Wilson on June 22, 1922. A crowd of 5,000 men and women assembled outside the jail at 7 o'clock, just before the execution. The people sang hymns and prayed. Both men submitted quietly to being hanged. They were escorted simultaneously from their cells to the scaffold where as they met smiled encouragingly to each other and both met death unflinchingly. The mourners outside included the sisters and brothers of Dunn and O'Sullivan. The laymen who led prayers announced masses of repose for the two men's souls were being said at various churches throughout London. Dunn and O'Sullivan were convicted of the premeditated murder and assassination of Field Marshall Wilson and all legal attempts to save their lives failed.

MESSRS. HASWELL AND MYERS HAVE RETURNED FROM FORT WORTH

Mayor Tyler Haswell and Hon. J. Allen Myers have returned from the republican state convention where they represented Brazos county and aided in the nomination of Dr. E. P. Wilcox of Austin, for United States senator Hon. William H. Atwell of Dallas for governor and the remainder of the ticket for the state. Mayor Haswell served on the credentials committee and Mr. Myers was re-elected executive committee member from the 12th district composed of Robertson, Freestone, Limestone and Brazos counties. He was very active in the deliberations of the convention. Mr. Myers in speaking of the assembly of republicans stated that it was a great convention and complimentary State Chairman R. E. Cragger of Brownsville on his speech in opening the convention and sounding the keynote of the republican work in Texas. Mr. Myers believes there will be a very marked increase in republican votes in Texas in November, 1922, as such former democrats as John H. Kirby and E. G. Suter have joined the republicans in the coming contests.

WASHINGTON COUNTY GOOD ROAD BENEFITS

(Navasota Examiner Review). Bren and Washington county are receiving much valuable free advertising from construction journals in various parts of the country since construction work started on the east and west highways, states A. F. Sayers, who has charge of the work for Smith Brothers, general contractors, who are building the highway. Several of the big magazines have given interesting data on the job, which is getting some splendid publicity because of the fact that the latest methods known in the United States are being used, and all equipment is new and modern in every detail.

Regarding the progress of the work Mr. Sayers says that three paving units are now running, four hundred men are working on the highway and seventy-five trucks are in almost constant use. The weekly payroll runs around $12,000.

About twenty-five cars of material are received daily, and the freight bills alone amount to $1,000 a day. Cement that is being used costs $1,000 a day. At present the work in the Burton section is handicapped because of lack of water. Two creeks have been dried up, and one well has been drilled by the contractors. Unless good rains come within ten days to relieve the situation, the Burton crew will be closed down.

The entire highway will be completed by late fall if the contractors are not crippled by strike developments. If the weather is favorable and the freight situation remains good, the road will be finished some time before December 31, the contract date for its completion.

Recently the Brenham paver made a record by laying 820 feet of pavement in one day, about four miles east of town. Fair progress is being made now by all crews, and inside of a week all will be working at maximum capacity and efficiency, providing sufficient rain falls. About one-half the pavement has been laid and may be said to be 99 per cent complete. However, traffic is not allowed over the highway for 30 days after the pavement is laid and much of it is not yet open for travel. About four miles are open at Burton and five miles at Chappell Hill. The Chappell Hill paver will be moved to Packery Spur next week.

One instance of the wide publicity the Washington county highway is receiving is contained in a big double-page ad in "Engineering and Contracting," a road and street magazine published in Chicago. The ad is that of the Lee Trailer and Body Company of Chicago, is illustrated with cuts of scenes on the Washington highway.

STRIKE JAMBOREE IS ABOUT CONCLUDED

(By Associated Press.)

Cleveland, O., Aug. 10.—The policy committee of the United Mineworkers of America today voted to proceed with the negotiations of wage scale agreement with operators in Ohio, western Pennsylvania, Indiana and Illinois, who are here for a joint conference called with a view to breaking the soft coal strike. In announcing the committee decision President John Lewis of the miners said today: "I confidently predict that when the scale made here 75 per cent of all bituminous coal miners now striking will sign scale to return to work within a week."

Austin, Texas, Aug. 10.—Governor Neff refused to confirm reports that Palestine will be placed under open port law late today. Governor Neff has been in conference with Milton Morris, local agent for the International and Great Northern railroad which passes thru Palestine and Judge Stedman, general attorney for the Texas railroads. It is believed the open port action is contemplated on account of the violence reported. This action if taken will have more or less effect on all points on the I. and C. N. and its branches.

BIG FOUR PROTEST. Denison, Texas, Aug. 10.—Vigorous protests against working under guard will be sent to the Katy Railroad by the Big Four Brotherhoods it is believed. Joint meeting of the members of the transportation organizations was held last night for two hours and was attended by several hundred members. Nothing officially was given out.

COMING TO CRISIS. Dallas, Texas, Aug. 10.—Authority to take action locally as we deem necessary to meet the danger, humiliation we are being required to endure "in operating engine equipments" not kept in condition as required by law was asked by Big Four Brotherhood and Switchmen Union, Dallas, of National officers in joint resolution last night. C. M. Cantrell, local Brotherhood Railway Trainmen officials announced today. The condition is caused by the striking shopmen.

GAINESVILLE SITUATION.

Gainesville, Texas, Aug. 10.—Indications around the district court room here Thursday morning, where Ranger Captain W. L. Wright, County Attorney Gettys and Texas rangers were in secret session, pointed to some action Wednesday in enforcing the open port law in Gainesville. Captain Wright, in charge of the rangers sent here by Governor Neff to enforce the open port law, declined to make a statement Wednesday morning, but intimated he might make one later. Sheriff's deputies are scouting the town in automobiles. Further arrests growing out of the assault of seven employees of the Santa Fe shops here last Thursday night are expected. Six men have already been released on bond in connection with the affair.

BARTON IN DENISON.

Denison, Texas, Aug. 10.—Adjutant General Thomas D. Barton, who arrived in Denison Tuesday from Austin, has opened headquarters here and from this city will direct the state troops and rangers. Members of the "Big Four" transportation brotherhoods with Denison as their terminal, are expected to voice their protest of the retention of deputy United States marshals here at a joint meeting Tuesday.

HOBOS ARE HAPPY.

Chicago, Aug. 10.—The rail strike may cause sleepless nights and worry in American homes from the White House down to the humblest cottages, but according to Dr. Ben L. Reilman, vice president of the Hobo College for Hoboes, it has proven one long drawn out season of unprecedented bliss. The migratory workers, according to Dr. Reilman, have evolved a system for beating the railroad. They sign up at Chicago to work in shops at some distant point. The railroads ship them out in Pullman cars—the first time in history that strike breakers have traveled in state, while their meals, the very best of everything, are furnished in dining cars. Arrived at his destination, the hobo works a day or two, or jumps the job immediately, as fancy dictates. Anyway, he shortly is signing up with another road to work at some still more distant point.

LUXURIES COST TEXANS MORE THAN PUBLIC UTILITIES IN 1922

(By Associated Press.)

Dallas, Texas, Aug. 10.—Cosmetics, chewing gum, cigarettes, chewing tobacco and things classed as luxuries, cost the people of Texas more in one year than did their electricity, natural gas, telephone, and electric railway services, according to the Texas Public Service Information Bureau. The total bill of the Texas people for luxuries in the year 1921 was approximately $300,000,000, while the bill for utility services totalled about $200,000,000. It is interesting to note that Texas women spent more than $40,000,000 for cosmetics alone while the total telephone bill for all the people of the state amounted to only $23,000,000.

POLITICS ARE VERY QUIET IN NEW YORK

(By Associated Press)

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 10.—The primaries in New York, to be held September 19, are attracting but little outside attention, as only local contests are to be decided. Under a recent act of the legislature, candidates for state-wide offices are nominated by party convention. Nominations for the lower house of Congress for the legislature and for county and municipal offices will be made by direct primary, but candidates for United States senator, governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, comptroller, treasurer, attorney general and state engineer will be named at the conventions of their respective parties.

The republican convention is to be held at Albany September 27-29, and the democrats will convene at Syracuse, September 28-30. No opposition has developed to the renomination by the Republicans of Governor Nathan L. Miller, although the executive has not signified that he is willing again to be a candidate. Former Governor Alfred L. Smith and William Randolph Hearst, the news paper publisher are most prominently mentioned for the democratic gubernatorial nomination. Mr. Smith has indicated that he is not anxious to re-enter politics. Mr. Hearst has announced his own candidacy, but an organized effort to win for him the nomination is being prosecuted under the direction of William J. Conners of Buffalo, former democratic state chairman.

Although there has been some opposition to the re-nomination of United States Senator William M. Alder, the movement has not been organized and apparently has made but little headway. Who will be named by the democrats is problematical. Some of the leaders in the "Hearst for Governor" campaign have proposed that the senatorial nomination be given to former Governor Smith.

THE GENARO GARCIA LIBRARY AT AUSTIN

(Special to The Eagle)

Austin, Texas, Aug. 10.—For the benefit of students attending the summer sessions of the University of Texas, the Garcia Library was recently exhibited, showing the books collected by Genaro Garcia and purchased by the University for $100,000. It was the boast of the collector that his shelves contained every known volume of any importance bearing on the history of Mexico, historical treatises, archives and scientific and literary articles. The collection was printed in London in 1491. It is a misall of the Catholic church, and the initial letters were put in by hand. It is still in fairly perfect condition. A more beautiful and interesting volume of a later date was printed at Paris in 1509. It is also a misall of religious character, and is distinctly the product of middle-aged workmanship. The binding is hand-tooled and the beautifully colored illuminations were made by hand. The music of the Gregorian chant is also contained in the book, and the notes were put in by hand. The old example of Mexican printing to be found in the collection is an unbound book printed in 1584, containing a summary of indulgences and pardons granted to organizations and brotherhoods of the Catholic church. An interesting feature of the volume is an unusual wood-cut on the first page. The initials are ornamental. There is an arithmetic book dated 1649 containing problems worked out in Spanish, and showing illustrations very similar to modern mathematical texts. The problems are in general based on army tactics, money or geometrical figures. It was evidently used as late as 1820 by students in some Mexican school, judging by no written in the margin of the volume. The book has a parchment binding. Another mathematical book, dated 1796, contains lessons in mathematics used as the first book in the University of Mexico. There are numerous definitions, corollaries and propositions in the book, but no illustrations. Probably the earliest existing copy of music printed in America is the Book of Four Passions printed in Mexico in 1604. It is Catholic church music composed particularly for Lent services by Joannis Navarro, a choir master of the Cathedral of Mexico.

BROAD POWERS OF TARIFF BILL WILL BE CURTAILED

Senate Finance Committee Decided Not To Allow Switching From Dutiable To Free List—Boots, Shoes and Hides Go On Free List Is Final Decision.

(By Associated Press)

Washington, D. C., Aug. 10.—Broad powers over Tariff duties originally proposed for present would be curtailed under substitute for the so-called Flexible tariff provisions in pending bill recommended to the United States Senate today by the Finance committee majority. The principal modifications proposed would prevent the transfer from the dutiable list to the free list or from the free list to the dutiable list and prohibit raising beyond any maximum fixed in the bill.

HIDES, BOOTS AND SHOES GO ON FREE LIST.

Washington, Aug. 10.—Concurring in the action of the house the senate sent hides back to the tariff free list. The vote was 39 to 26. Rates of 2 cents on raw, green or pickled and 4 cents on dried hides had been recommended by the finance committee majority at the instance of the republican agricultural tariff bloc. There was a split among both republicans and democrats on the issue, with some majority leaders refusing to go along with the committee. The tariff bloc also failed to hold all its forces in line. Boots and shoes were restored to the free list without a record vote.

PECAN GROWING IS SAN SABA SUBJECT

(Associated Press)

San Saba, Texas, Aug. 10.—Pecan growing was the center of discussion at the first annual San Saba Pecan Day celebration just held here. Planting, tending, harvesting and marketing were problems discussed regarding the pecan. A pecan supper was served also. Charles L. Edwards of Dallas, Prof. W. B. Lanham of the Texas A. & M. College, and Frederick Porter of Dallas were scheduled for talks on the program. The purpose of the day was encouragement of pecan growing.

A FISHING PARTY

A Ford flivver fully equipped and properly driven left Main street Thursday morning for the Government dam near Navasota on the Brazos river ostensibly on a fishing mission and in the car were noticed L. L. Stephens, Marvin Elliott, Ollie Emmel, Rudolph Myers and Henry Rhode. The Eagle was promised a good fish story—also some fish. Fine!

THE WEATHER

New Orleans, La., Aug. 10.—For Bryan and vicinity: Tonight and Friday generally fair.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS AT SANTONE CROSSING

(Special to The Eagle)

Normangee, Texas, Aug. 10.—The Normangee Knights of Pythias lodge will give a picnic and barbecue on Tuesday afternoon, August 15, on the Navasota river at the San Antonio crossing. An invitation has been extended to Editor Lee J. Rountree, of Bryan, to be the speaker of the occasion followed by other talks and music. A picnic and barbecue will be served at about 6 o'clock. The invitation to the Knights of this section reads: "Now won't you come? and bring a few good Knights and their wives, also your wife, and let us practice fraternity away from the haunts of man, where only the creaking of the bull frog, and the song of the katydid, will disturb our quietude." It is expected that many visitors will be present at this wonderful outing place on the occasion.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVORERS

The Houston district will have a Christian Endeavor rally at Hempstead Saturday evening, August 12, at six o'clock. Quite a large crowd is expected as the Endeavorers from Houston and Galveston expect to meet the Endeavorers from Bryan and surrounding territory there. All who are interested in C. E. work and want to see its growth please make a special effort to attend.

Swatow Typhoon Kills 50,000 And Makes 100,000 Homeless

(By Associated Press.)

Pekin, Aug. 10.—Deaths from the typhoon on August 2 at Swatow, a seaport, two hundred and fifty miles northeast of Hongkong is now estimated at 50,000 persons, by the American Consul at Swatow who reported to the American Legation. The Consul added that 100,000 are homeless and relief is needed greatly and urgently. Previous figures estimated the highest total casualties at 28,000. The typhoon tidal wave swept the entire region surrounding the little port of Swatow and the population tabulated was not more than 60,000 persons but the whole surrounding country was devastated and thousands of bodies were swept for miles into the sea.

HONGKONG RAISED $42,000 RELIEF FUND.

Hongkong, Aug. 10.—The Chamber of Commerce subscription relief for typhoon sufferers now amounts to more than $42,000 and vast sums of money is needed to care for the 50,000 dead and the 100,000 homeless. Damages extend for 250 miles and the country is wrecked.

Members of the "Big Four" transportation brotherhoods with Denison as their terminal, are expected to voice their protest of the retention of deputy United States marshals here at a joint meeting Tuesday.

HOBOS ARE HAPPY.
Chicago, Aug. 10.—The rail strike may cause sleepless nights and worry in American homes from the White House down to the humblest cottages, but according to Dr. Ben L. Reilman, vice president of the Hobo College for Hoboes, it has proven one long drawn out season of unprecedented bliss. The migratory workers, according to Dr. Reilman, have evolved a system for beating the railroad. They sign up at Chicago to work in shops at some distant point. The railroads ship them out in Pullman cars—the first time in history that strike breakers have traveled in state, while their meals, the very best of everything, are furnished in dining cars. Arrived at his destination, the hobo works a day or two, or jumps the job immediately, as fancy dictates. Anyway, he shortly is signing up with another road to work at some still more distant point.

LUXURIES COST TEXANS MORE THAN PUBLIC UTILITIES IN 1922

(By Associated Press.)
Dallas, Texas, Aug. 10.—Cosmetics, chewing gum, cigarettes, chewing tobacco and things classed as luxuries, cost the people of Texas more in one year than did their electricity, natural gas, telephone, and electric railway services, according to the Texas Public Service Information Bureau. The total bill of the Texas people for luxuries in the year 1921 was approximately $300,000,000, while the bill for utility services totalled about $200,000,000. It is interesting to note that Texas women spent more than $40,000,000 for cosmetics alone while the total telephone bill for all the people of the state amounted to only $23,000,000.

POLITICS ARE VERY QUIET IN NEW YORK

(By Associated Press)
Albany, N. Y., Aug. 10.—The primaries in New York, to be held September 19, are attracting but little outside attention, as only local contests are to be decided. Under a recent act of the legislature, candidates for state-wide offices are nominated by party convention. Nominations for the lower house of Congress for the legislature and for county and municipal offices will be made by direct primary, but candidates for United States senator, governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, comptroller, treasurer, attorney general and state engineer will be named at the conventions of their respective parties.

The republican convention is to be held at Albany September 27-29, and the democrats will convene at Syracuse, September 28-30. No opposition has developed to the renomination by the Republicans of Governor Nathan L. Miller, although the executive has not signified that he is willing again to be a candidate. Former Governor Alfred L. Smith and William Randolph Hearst, the newspaper publisher are most prominently mentioned for the democratic gubernatorial nomination. Mr. Smith has indicated that he is not anxious to re-enter politics. Mr. Hearst has not announced his own candidacy, but an organized effort to win for him the nomination is being prosecuted under the direction of William J. Conners of Buffalo, former democratic state chairman.

Although there has been some opposition to the re-nomination of United States Senator William M. Calder, the movement has not been organized and apparently has made out little headway. Who will be named by the democrats is problematical. Some of the leaders in the "Hearst for Governor" campaign have proposed that the senatorial nomination be given to former Governor Smith.

THE GENARO GARCIA LIBRARY AT AUSTIN

(Special to The Eagle)
Austin, Texas, Aug. 10.—For the benefit of students attending the summer sessions of the University of Texas, the Garcia Library was recently exhibited, showing the books collected by Genaro Garcia and purchased by the University for $100,000. It was the boast of the collector that his shelves contained every known volume of any importance bearing on the history of Mexico, historical treatises, archives and scientific and literary articles. The book in the collection was printed in London in 1491. It is a missal of the Catholic church, and the initial letters were put in by hand. It is still in fairly perfect condition. A more beautiful and interesting volume of a later date was printed at Paris in 1509. It is also a missal of religious character, and is distinctly the product of middle-aged workmanship. The binding is hand-tooled and the beautifully colored illuminations were made by hand. The music of the Gregorian chant is also contained in the book, and the notes were put in by hand. The oldest example of Mexican printing to be found in the collection is an unbound book printed in 1584, containing a summary of indulgences and pardons granted to organizations and brotherhoods of the Catholic church. An interesting feature of the volume is an unusual wood-cut on the first page. The initials are ornamental. There is an arithmetic book dated 1649 containing problems worked out in Spanish, and showing illustrations very similar to modern mathematical texts. The problems are in general based on army tactics, money or geometrical figures. It was evidently used as late as 1820 by students in some Mexican school, judging by no written in the margin of the volume. The book has a parchment binding. Another mathematical book, dated 1796, contains lessons in mathematics used as the first book in the University of Mexico. There are numerous definitions, corollaries and propositions in the book, but no illustrations. Probably the earliest existing copy of music printed in America is the Book of Four Passions printed in Mexico in 1604. It is Catholic church music composed particularly for Lent services by Joannis Navarro, a choir master of the Cathedral of Mexico.

BROAD POWERS OF TARIFF BILL WILL BE CURTAILED

Senate Finance Committee Decided Not To Allow Switching From Dutiable To Free List—Boots, Shoes and Hides Go On Free List Is Final Decision.

(By Associated Press)

Washington, D. C., Aug. 10.—Broad powers over Tariff duties originally proposed for present would be curtailed under substitute for the so-called Flexible tariff provisions in pending bill recommended to the United States Senate today by the Finance committee majority. The principal modifications proposed would prevent the transfer from the dutiable list to the free list or from the free list to the dutiable list and prohibit raising beyond any maximum fixed in the bill.

HIDES, BOOTS AND SHOES GO ON FREE LIST.
Washington, Aug. 10.—Concurring in the action of the house the senate sent hides back to the tariff free list. The vote was 39 to 26. Rates of 2 cents on raw, green or pickled and 4 cents on dried hides had been recommended by the finance committee majority at the instance of the republican agricultural tariff bloc. There was a split among both republicans and democrats on the issue, with some majority leaders refusing to go along with the committee. The tariff bloc also failed to hold all its forces in line. Boots and shoes were restored to the free list without a record vote.

PECAN GROWING IS SAN SABA SUBJECT

(Associated Press)
San Saba, Texas, Aug. 10.—Pecan growing was the center of discussion at the first annual San Saba Pecan Day celebration just held here. Planting, tending, harvesting and marketing were problems discussed regarding the pecan. A pecan supper was served also. Charles L. Edwards of Dallas, Prof. W. B. Lanham of the Texas A. & M. College, and Frederick Porter of Dallas were scheduled for talks on the program. The purpose of the day was encouragement of pecan growing.

It is expected that many visitors will be present at this wonderful outing place on the occasion.

Swatow Typhoon Kills 50,000 And Makes 100,000 Homeless

(By Associated Press.)
Pekin, Aug. 10.—Deaths from the typhoon on August 2 at Swatow, a seaport, two hundred and fifty miles northeast of Hongkong is now estimated at 50,000 persons, by the American Consul at Swatow who reported to the American Legation. The Consul added that 100,000 are homeless and relief is needed greatly and urgently. Previous figures estimated the highest total casualties at 28,000. The typhoon tidal wave swept the entire region surrounding the little port of Swatow and the population tabulated was not more than 60,000 persons but the whole surrounding country was devastated and thousands of bodies were swept for miles into the sea.

HONGKONG RAISED $42,000 RELIEF FUND.

Some candidates seem to think they are able to swear their way into the United States Senate.

Sam Miller, of Mineral Wells, told Sam Harben of Richardson that Sam Fore of Floresville was too fat to be a man and not pretty enough to be a woman.

The Eagle understands that a committee has called on a certain candidate for United States senate and demanded if they support him that he desist in public swearing. "Out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh," Verily.

The Rio Grande valley farmer gets $6.00 per ton for his tomatoes. The next day in Houston the markets sell the same cabbage for $150 per ton. The next day the Houston hotels sell the same cabbage for $25.00 per ton but George Bailey asks: "What a ton of cabbage?"

Headline: "100,000 Tons of Coal Arrives From Wales." Now that is a pretty come off. More coal in the United States than any other country in the world and 600,000 coal miners idle. We must get 3000 miles across the ocean to get a little coal. Somebody ought to be bored for the simples or tapped for addies. Somebody has blundered.

Thousands and thousands of dollars go into unsightly road signs along the public highways in Texas and there is no benefit to be derived from this practice. These signs are ruining the landscape and are especially distasteful to the people who live behind these rough signs and must look at their ugly backs every day in the year. The commissioners' court of Williamson county recently ordered all the hideous signs taken down that appeared on the public highways. Road signs are not advertising—only scarecrows.

Does George Bailey and George Robinson know that the farmer in Oklahoma sells his peaches for $1.00 per bushel and the dealers in Houston and Waco sell them for 40 cents per dozen or $10.00 per bushel, and the restauranter gets 40c a peach or $80.00 the bushel. The Oklahoma peach crop is being "handled," boys.

There are a number of cooks and chefs in Texas who receive a larger salary than the president of the State University. In fact the big hotels pay their cooks twice as much as the Governor of Texas receives. A Dallas county farmer sold an egg to the buyer for 1-2 cents and the Dallas cook in a few minutes got $1.75 for it. This is fine work.

The Tyler Courier-Times says: "Cyclone" Davis, the venerable Methodist preacher who has been a notable figure in Texas politics for nearly half a century, was defeated for Congress by Eugene Black in the Fifth District by less than 400 votes. Mr. Davis served in Congress some years ago and was regarded as a brilliant and picturesque character." The Courier-Times is mistaken in saying "Cyclone" Davis is a Methodist preacher. He is an elder in the Christian church. We have heard him pray many times at the call of Rev. S. D. Perkins, pastor of the Christian church at Taylor and Sulphur Springs and he can pray a wonderful prayer.

AID FOR TEXAS ROADS.

Texas will benefit by federal aid for public highways during the three-year period of 1923-25, more than any other state in the union, with $11,000,000 allotted out of a total appropriation of $190,000,000, according to R. M. Hubbard of New Boston, chairman of the state highway commission. Mr. Hubbard pointed out that federal aid is allotted to the states under three different ratios, i. e., the ratio of population, ro area and of post mileage, of the number of miles on rural mail routes. Texas secures the large amount of federal aid chiefly through the last two ratios on account of its vast area and its network of rural free delivery routes.—Brenham Banner Press.

SELF-EVIDENT TRUTHS.

This government and her institutions, national, state and municipal, does not belong to those who would destroy them but to those who have founded them during the years and have pledged their effort to support and perpetuate them. The Eagle would earnestly urge all men to recognize these great truths.—Bryan Eagle.

These truths, like many others, should be self-evident, but alas! We seem to have lost sight of these great fundamental truths and fallen in line with the sentiment that they belong to who ever is strong enough or smart enough to exploit them. It is hard to tell which are the greater enemies to our free institutions today, those who want to exploit them for personal profit or those who would destroy them utterly.—Mineral Wells Index.

OUR KNEE PANTS TEXAS FARMERS

(By Phebe K. Warner in Fort Worth Star-Telegram.)
One of the happiest sights we saw last week at the Farmers' Short Course at the A. and M. College was the farm boys' drill. Every morning for a few minutes, just before they began their day's work, the boys were put through some lively exercises. And just about 9 o'clock here they came down the street, and up the road, swinging around the corners like a real army. And they were a real army, organized and trained to fight the battles of life. These boys are being trained to fight the battles of life in times of peace, out in the cornfields and the cotton fields and the harvest fields of Texas, where there is no beating of drums. Just brave hearts to beat, and they must fight alone. And they must tramp alone in the great march of progress throughout our Nation with only the music of the birds to cheer them on. The happiest sign in America at this time is the way the farm boys are being trained to keep step in the march of progress.

Usually the column was about a block in extent, with the older and taller boys to the front to set the pace. Their leaders were the various county demonstrators, who acted as officers and called out the orders. All along the line were men to keep the boys in line and in step. All down the line the soldiers grew smaller and smaller and their legs grew shorter and shorter. But that did not effect the STEP. At the end of the line, bringing up the rear guard, were the "Knee Pants Farmers." Beaming with the joy of being in line, they stretched their trousers every step to keep up with their older brothers. How their armsidid swing to get up sufficient momentum to make those long strides spaced to fit the onger legged boys in the front. Did those knee pants boys falter in the march? "No, not ONE." When their longer geared brothers got too far ahead, instead of falling out of line and fainting by the wayside, they simply broke step and took a few extra jumps until they could catch up again. And when the march was ended the knee pants farmers were all in their places. But after the march was over and the boys had scattered to their various places of work and study, it was not those long-legged strides that interested us. It was not the fact that those little boys were trying to keep step in the morning drill of 15 minutes that meant the most. Not that. But it was the strides those knee pants farmers are taking in the progressive march of agriculture. Many of them at 12 and 14 years of age out-stepping their fathers and their neighbors of 50 and 60 years of age. Those boys, in the beauty and vigor of early manhood, are being taught the most scientific methods of farming, and the very best lessons there are known at this time in the production of high grade livestock. Those boys, just starting into their "teens" are learning to judge the different breeds of hogs and cattle, sheep, horses and poultry. Their love for the highest grade stuff in being cultivated until they will never be satisfied to raise poor stuff on their farms. And best of all, they are being educated to love the soil and the country and the farm and the livestock. If this training is kept up until those boys are 25 years old what will they be worth to Texas and the Nation? There will be NO salary equal to their worth to their country. But by that time they will have a higher motive for work created in their hearts than mere salary. And scores and scores of those boys, much as they are needed out in the country on individual farms, will be drafted into the agricultural training camps for other boys.

One of the most frequent stories told by the different instructors who addressed the agricultural writers' conference was that of boys whom they had trained for years in the A. and M. College, who were now drawing higher salaries than their instructors.

Now the average person who reads this may say, "Why in h—don't the professors get out and take these big paying jobs and leave their job at A. and M. to the kids they have trained?" The answer is easy if not plain. Those instructors learn to love the boys they teach and train. And the joy of transforming a raw boy into a useful man brings more peace and happiness to their souls than the extra money would bring to them. So they keep on training boys into useful and successful men. And glory in the success of their professional offspring, just as any true father and mother rejoice in the success of their child, no matter what it cost them to make a success of him. That's why. And that is also why every red-blooded, self-respecting citizen of Texas should stand by such institutions as our A. and M. College, whose business is not only to teach boys how to produce better crops and better livestock and to become better mechanics, but whose highest function is the production of a higher grade of American citizens to go out into the world to help raise the standards of boys everywhere. That is what the A. and M. College is for. And when the years roll by and these knee pants farmers have a vote, you'll see a change in the attitude of Texas toward HIGHER EDUCATION. And whence came these knee pants farmers? They are the boys that have been discovered by the 162 county farm demonstration agents of Texas. They are the boys from 162 counties in Texas who are raising the finest pigs and the finest calves and the finest chickens in their country.

METHODISTS GET IN THE GAME AT LAST

Methodists 11; Christians 2
(By C. S. Beckwith.)

The long drouth the Methodist team has been passing through was broken Tuesday evening, and the Christian team's average was given a set back. Just as that big black cloud passed over and settled between the sun and Brazos County Umpire Patterson called "play ball." This started one of the rankest farces that has been staged since the league opened. It was no credit to the Methodists to win this game, and the way the Christians played would insult the intelligence of any fan. This league was organized to give the people of Bryan entertainment and bring about a closer relationship of all Sunday Schools. Let me tell you one thing, you would be ball players have got to cut it out, if you don't want to play ball according to Hoyle step down and let somebody else do it. You can fool some people some of the time but you can't fool all the people all of the time. If you think you can stage another game like the one last evening the fans will quit you cold. Regarding these continual arguments, let me tell you, we married people can have all the argument at home we don't have to travel to the Academy to get it—all we have to do is to be late for supper. Now in order to cut out this stalling for time I would suggest that you make a ruling that all games be 5 innings if possible to play it, but 3 innings will constitute a legal game. This will stop stalling on one side and intentional fanning out by the other team. Several fans were indignant because Kellett was not allowed to return to the game. A player once out of a game is out for all time, under no circumstances can he be allowed to play. Umpire Patterson was in hot water from start to finish. What he should have done was to forfeit the game to the Methodists at the end of the third inning and probably the fans would not have had such a bad taste in their mouths. If you want this league to be a reality, play good base ball. If you don't play another game like the one last evening and your league is bluey. Now fans we know that these two teams made a mess of things, but we will give them one more chance. Players and managers get together and have this kind of playing eliminated. This is a Sunday School league, keep up the standard of the Sunday School.

ATHLETIC COUNCIL HOLDS GOOD MEETING

The Sunday school league athletic council held a meeting in the Knights of Pythias Hall Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Several matters of importance came before this committee for discussion. The most important question that was placed before the council was the eligibility of players. This has been left in the hands of a committee consisting of J. E. Covey, E. M. Dodson and "Bill" Poindexter. All questions regarding eligibility will be acted on by this conference. The committee was invested with the power to appoint an additional committee to co-operate with them, to see if it will be possible to get the merchants to close at 5:30 in order that games of 5 innings duration may be completed. All games in the future are to commence at 5:45 p. m. instead of 6:00 p. m. All players who are eligible to play bear this in mind and be on hand to play ball at that time. The managers who are representing the various Sunday school teams are putting forth every effort to give the fans good baseball, so I think if the merchants will close their places of business at 5:30 it will greatly assist the players who participate in the games as well as the fans.

Remember: 5:45 p. m. from today instead of 6 p. m. Representatives from the following Sunday schools were present: Methodists: Ransom Cole, W. E. Johnson; Baptists: A. S. Ware, Joe Spill; Rev. Baptists: H. Patterson, Walter Holmes; Christians: Will Collard & Co.; Episcopal: Allan P. Carr, Rev. S. M. Bird; Presbyterians: Sam Cavitt, C. G. Wetter. Other notables who are old performers in the national pastime were: Jack M. Gordon, Cecil Estell, Ransom Cole, Albert Goodman, J. L. Brock, M. M. Erskine, O. J. Parks, W. E. Johnson, Robt. V. Armstrong, N. F. Lockard, M. Dansby, Tom G. Suber, R. C. Franks, Clarence Vick and several others. There being no further business to come before the council it adjourned at 5:15 p. m. BRAZOS COUNTY BOYS AND GIRLS CLUB DEPT.

Club Notes and Farm News by County Agent C. L. Boason.

"There is so much Devil in the best of us. And so much Angel in the worst of us. That it does not become any of us To say much about the rest of us!"

The Farm Bureau News, of August 1, in speaking of Mr. J. W. L. Hall, New Boston, Texas, recently elected secretary of the cotton association and director of field service, has the following to say concerning diversification on Mr. Hall's own farm: "On his farm Mr. Hall puts 150 acres in cotton, 200 in corn, oats and other grain, 20 acres in sweet potatoes. 50 acres in hay, peas and sorghum. 25 acres in peanuts, and 10 acres in garden truck." In other words, Mr. Hall does not seem to be practicing the policy of putting "all his eggs in one basket," a policy often resulting in disaster to farmers, and at the same time bringing stagnation to all business as well. Feed crops did fairly well in Brazos county last year, but the half million in cold cash that has gone out of the county for feed stuffs this year would indicate that the production was inadequate last year.

Don't forget to prepare for a fall garden. It will furnish a lot of fresh wholesome vegetables, and at the same time cut down the family-grocery bills.

Many farmers throughout the county have taken advantage of the dry weather by plowing up Bermuda patches in the field, greatly adding to the appearance of the farms, as well as preparing for greater crop production.

R. L. Jones, and son, Will, of route No. 6, have added another number to their program of diversified farming by purchasing the John Morehead dairy herd, which will be used to supply milk for the local market the by-products being used on the farm to build up their already splendid poultry industry. Since Mr. Jones has begun the work of tending his hill land this dairy herd will be a telling factor in building up the fertility of the farm.

Mrs. J. Walter Smith of Millican won the prize on Brazos Day for the best two-minute talk by saying the following: "Mr. Chairman, ladies, gentlemen and children: As you perhaps know, it has been said that Millican was dead, but before we leave here today we hope to convince you that, the dead at one time, Millican is now a 'live wire.' Just a few months ago our community club was organized. Since that time we say, as Kipling said, 'If you don't work, you die.' Wisdom is knowing what to do; skill is knowing how to do it. But real human service is characterized in the doing. I venture to say that you have heard more of Millican's success during the past eight or nine months than you have heard in that many years. Why? Because we have been doing things. In the limited time I can only outline in a very brief way some of the many things we are striving for. After the other line has been given I believe you will agree with me in saying that a community that beats Millican will be keeping pace with such lines of endeavor and accomplishment as it has never before known.

1. Organize in a business way.
2. Have definite plans.
3. Provide a motive for young people.
4. Employ more efficient teachers.
5. Erect a brick school building.
6. Improve all living conditions.
7. Clean up. Paint up. Beautify.
8. Promote thrift and industry.
9. Public barbecue; rural life conference; annual community fair.

When these community forces and factors are in operation, and when these conditions to which and for which Millican is striving, are obtained, we shall be, to you dear Tabor and others: a light by day and a star by night. I thank you."

Mr. Chas. E. Baughman of the Warehouse and Markets, Austin, in speaking at the recent Short Course, told of the tracing of a car of cabbage from San Benito valley to Kansas City. The farmer first sold the cabbage at $6 a ton. After they had been sold 28 times it was found that they had been sold finally for $107.50 profit per ton. Is it any wonder that a big banker like Clarence Holland should be heard to say: "The world seems upside down."

Mr. Christi, director of Indiana Extension Service, reminded his audience at the recent Short Course that he had heard County Agents tell of the fame of the plains country and boast of its products of the coast. But he had not heard any one boasting of a section leading in "good homes." Mr. Christi believes that in providing good homes and modern conveniences is one of the secrets of contentment on the farm.

Most of the farmers who planted early maturing varieties of corn this year will have ample supply of feed, while many of those who planted late maturing varieties will have to depend on the feed stores. Farmers having a dependable variety of corn may improve this corn from year to year by field selection. A fairly good plan is to attach a box to the side of the wagon body so that the best ears from the best stalks may be thrown into the box at gathering time for later culling and selection.

Monday of this week was field day with the boys and girls of the Tabor club. Promptly at 1:30 p. m. several cars left the high school to visit the many club projects, consisting of standard bred poultry, registered hogs standard varieties of cotton and corn etc. Every home visited had standard bred poultry and most of them had registered hogs. Corn and cotton had suffered as a result of the dry weather but the trip revealed some good corn and cotton. Winnie Harris had a very fine patch of cotton, some stalks showing more than a hundred bolls. Ezra Bozenta stated that his flock of 30 S. C. White Leghorns had laid 4,000 eggs since the 5th of February, when he began keeping record.

Mr. T. J. Conway who accompanied the party to give instruction on poultry said he was agreeably surprised to see so many nice country homes, such as were seen at John Smith's, H. A. Benbow's, J. W. Harris' Geo. P. Edges', F. W. Locke's, J. L. Sample's and others along the route.

A. W. Buchanan and Miss Blodgett, district agents, accompanied the club and expressed themselves delighted with the trip and the condition of the several club projects. Keep your eye on the Tabor club for a good report this fall. What other club would like to have a field day? Suppose we have another county-wide club meeting? Let's hear from you club members. Prof. and Mrs. R. O. Allen have very kindly offered to let us meet on their beautiful lawn at Allen Academy. All the world seems anxious to extend a helping hand to club members endeavoring to make life happier and better.

Now is the time to select and prepare club exhibits. Don't neglect.

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. McKinney of Marlin; Dr. Earnest Hill of Houston; and W. M. Hill of Tyler who have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Beard of College have returned to their respective homes.

Some candidates seem to think they are able to swear their way into the United States Senate.

Sam Miller, of Mineral Wells, told Sam Harben of Richardson that Sam Fore of Floresville was too fat to be a man and not pretty enough to be a woman.

The Eagle understands that a committee has called on a certain candidate for United States senate and demanded if they support him that he desist in public swearing. "Out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh." Verily.

The Rio Grande valley farmer gets $6.00 per ton for his tomatoes. The next day in Houston the markets sell the same cabbage for $150 per ton. The next day the Houston hotels sell the same cabbage for $2.00 per ton. But George Bailey asks: "What a ton of cabbage?"

Headline: "100,000 Tons of Coal Arrives From Wales." Now that is a pretty come off. More coal in the United States than any other country in the world and 600,000 coal miners idle. We must go 3000 miles across the ocean to get a little coal. Somebody ought to be bored for the similes or tapped for addles. Somebody has blundered.

Thousands and thousands of dollars go into unsightly road signs along the public highways in Texas and there is no benefit to be derived from this practice. These signs are ruining the landscape and are especially distasteful to the people who live behind these rough signs and must look at their ugly backs every day in the year. The commissioners' court of Williamson county recently ordered all the hideous signs taken down that appeared on the public highways. Road signs are not advertising—only scarecrows.

Does George Bailey and George Robinson know that the farmer in Oklahoma sells his peaches for $1.00 per bushel and the dealers in Houston and Waco sell them for 40 cents per dozen or $10.00 per bushel, and the restaurateur gets 40c a peach or $80.00 the bushel. The Oklahoma peach crop is being "handled," boys.

There are a number of cooks and chefs in Texas who receive a larger salary than the president of the State University. In fact the big hotels pay their cooks twice as much as the Governor of Texas receives. A Dallas county farmer sold an egg to the buyer for 1-2 cents and the Dallas cook in a few minutes got $1.75 for it. This is fine work.

The Tyler Courier-Times says: "Cyclone" Davis, the venerable Methodist preacher who has been a notable figure in Texas politics for nearly half a century, was defeated for Congress by Eugene Black in the Fifth District by less than 400 votes. Mr. Davis served in Congress some years ago and as regarded a brilliant and picturesque character." The Courier-Times is mistaken in saying "Cyclone" Davis is a Methodist preacher. He is an elder in the Christian church. We have heard him pray many times at the call of Rev. S. D. Perkins, pastor of the Christian church at Taylor and Sulphur Springs and he can pray a wonderful prayer.

AID FOR TEXAS ROADS.

Texas will benefit by federal aid for public highways during the three-year period of 1923-25, more than any other state in the union, with $11,000,000 allotted out of a total appropriation of $190,000,000, according to R. M. Hubbard of New Boston, chairman of the state highway commission. Mr. Hubbard pointed out that federal aid is allotted to the states under three different ratios, i. e., the ratio of population, to area and of post mileage, of the number of miles on rural mail routes. Texas secures the large amount of federal aid chiefly through the last two ratios on account of its vast area and its network of rural free delivery routes.—Brenham Banner Press.

SELF-EVIDENT TRUTHS.

This government and her institutions, national, state and municipal, does not belong to those who would destroy them but to those who have founded them during the years and have pledged their effort to support and perpetuate them. The Eagle would earnestly urge all men to recognize these great truths.—Bryan Eagle.

These truths, like many others, should be self-evident, but alas! We seem to have lost sight of these great fundamental truths and fallen in line with the sentiment that they belong to who ever is strong enough or smart enough to exploit them. It is hard to tell which are the greater enemies to our free institutions today, those who want to exploit them for personal profit or those who would destroy them utterly.—Mineral Wells Index.

OUR KNEE PANTS TEXAS FARMERS

(By Phebe K. Warner in Fort Worth Star-Telegram).

One of the happiest sights we saw last week at the Farmers' Short Course at the A. and M. College was the farm boys' drill. Every morning for a few minutes, just before they began their day's work, the boys were put through some lively exercises. And just about 9 o'clock here they came down the street, and up the road, swinging around the corners like a real army. And they were a real army, organized and trained to fight the battles of life. These boys are being trained to fight the battles of life in times of peace, out in the cornfields and the cotton fields and the harvest fields of Texas, where there is no beating of drums. Just brave hearts to beat, and they must fight alone. And they must tramp alone in the great march of progress throughout our Nation with only the music of the birds to cheer them on. The happiest sign in America at this time is the way the farm boys are being trained to keep step in the march of progress.

Usually the column was about a block in extent, with the older and taller boys to the front to set the pace. Their leaders were the various county demonstrators, who acted as officers and called out the orders. All along the line the soldiers grew smaller and smaller and in step. All down the line the soldiers grew smaller and smaller and their legs grew shorter and shorter. But that did not effect the STEP. At the end of the line, bringing up the rear guard, were the "Knee Pants Farmers." Beaming with the joy of being in line, they stretched their trousers every step to keep up with their older brothers. How their arms and legs swung to get up sufficient momentum to make those long strides spaced to fit the oner legged boys in the front. Did those knee pants boys falter in the march? "No, not ONE." When their longer legged brothers got too far ahead, instead of falling out of line and fainting by the wayside, they simply broke step and took a few extra jumps until they could catch up again. And when the march was ended the knee pants farmers were all in their places. But after the march was over and the boys had scattered to their various places of work and study, it was not those long-legged striders that interested us. It was not the fact that those little boys were trying to keep step in the morning drill of 15 minutes that meant the most. Not that. But it was the strides those knee pants farmers are taking in the progressive march of agriculture. Many of them at 12 and 14 years of age out-stepping their fathers and their neighbors of 50 and 60 years of age. Those boys, in the beauty and vigor of early manhood, are being taught the most scientific methods of farming, and the very best lessons there are known at this time in the production of high grade livestock. Those boys, just starting into their "teens" are learning to judge the different breeds of hogs and cattle, sheep, horses and poultry. Their love for the highest grade stuff in being cultivated until they will never be satisfied to raise poor stuff on their farms. And best of all, they are being educated to love the soil and the country and the farm and the livestock. If this training is kept up until those boys are 25 years old what will they be worth to Texas and the Nation? There will be NO salary equal to their worth to their country. But by that time they will have a higher motive for work created in their hearts than mere salary. And scores and scores of those boys, much as they are needed out in the country on individual farms, will be drafted into the agricultural training camps for other boys.

One of the most frequent stories told by the different instructors who addressed the agricultural writers' conference was that of boys whom they had trained for years in the A. and M. College, who were now drawing higher salaries than their instructors.

Now the average person who reads this may say, "Why in h—don't the professors get out and take these big paying jobs and leave their job at A. and M. to the kids they have trained?" The answer is easy if not plain. Those instructors learn to love the boys they teach and train. And the joy of transforming a raw boy into a useful man brings more peace and happiness to their souls than the extra money would bring to them. So they keep on training boys into useful and successful men. And glory in the success of their professional offspring, just as any true father and mother rejoices in the success of their child, no matter what it cost them to make a success of him. That's why. And that is also why every red-blooded, self-respecting citizen of Texas should stand by such institutions as our A. and M. College, whose business is not only to teach boys how to produce better crops and better livestock and to become better mechanics, but whose highest function is the production of a higher grade of American citizens to go out into the world to help raise the standards of boys everywhere. That is what the A. and M. College is for. And when the years roll by and these knee pants farmers have a vote, you'll see a change in the attitude of Texas toward HIGHER EDUCATION. And whence came these knee pants farmers? They are the boys that have been discovered by the 162 county farm demonstration agents of Texas. They are the boys from 162 counties in Texas who are raising the finest pigs and the finest calves and the finest chickens in their county.

METHODISTS GET IN THE GAME AT LAST

Methodists 11; Christians 2 (By C. S. Beckwith).

The long drouth the Methodist team has been passing through was broken Tuesday evening, and the Christian team's average was given a set back. Just as that big black cloud passed over and settled between the sun and Brazos County Umpire Patterson called "play ball." This started one of the rankest farces that has been staged since the league opened. It was no credit to the Methodists to win this game, and the way the Christians played would insult the intelligence of any fan. This league was organized to give the people of Bryan entertainment and bring about a closer relationship of all Sunday Schools. Let me tell you one thing, you would be ball players have got to cut it out, if you don't want to play ball according to Hoyle step down and let somebody else do it. You can fool some people some of the time but you can't fool all the people all the time. If you think you can stage another game like the one last evening the fans will quit you cold. Regarding these continual arguments, let me tell you, us married people can have all the argument at home we don't have to travel to the Academy to get it—all we have to do is to be late for supper. Now in order to cut out this stalling for time I would suggest that you make a ruling that all games be 5 innings if possible to play it, but 3 innings will constitute a legal game. This will stop stalling on one side and intentional fanning out by the other team. Several fans were indignant because Kellett was not allowed to return to the game. A player once out of a game is out for all time, under no circumstances can he be allowed to play. Umpire Patterson was in hot water from start to finish. What he should have done was to forfeit the game to the Methodists at the end of the third inning and probably the fans would not have had such a bad taste in their mouths. If you want this league to be a reality, play good base ball. If you don't play another game like the one last evening and your league is bluey. Now fans we know that these two teams made a mess of things, but we will give them one more chance. Players and managers get together and have this kind of playing eliminated. This is a Sunday School league, keep up the standard of the Sunday School.

ATHLETIC COUNCIL HOLDS GOOD MEETING

(By C. S. Beckwith)

The Sunday school league athletic council held a meeting in the Knights of Pythias Hall Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Several matters of importance came before this committee for discussion. The most important question that was placed before the council was the eligibility of players. This has been left in the hands of a committee consisting of J. E. Covey, E. M. Dodson and "Bill" Poindecker. All questions regarding eligibility will be acted on by this conference. The committee was invested with the power to appoint an additional committee to co-operate with them, to see if it will be possible to get the merchants to close at 5:30 in order that games of 5 innings duration may be completed. All games in the future are to commence at 5:45 p. m. instead of 6:00 p. m. All players who are eligible to play bear this in mind and be on hand to play ball at that time. The managers who are representing the various Sunday school teams are putting forth every effort to give the fans good baseball, so I think if the merchants will close their places of business at 5:30 it will greatly assist the players who participate in the games as well as the fans.

Remember: 5:45 p. m. from today instead of 6 p. m. Representatives from the following Sunday schools were present: Methodists: Ransom Cole, W. E. Johnson; Baptists: A. S. Ware, Joe Spell; Fr. Baptists: H. Patterson, Walter Holmes; Christians: Will Collard & Co.; Episcopalians: Allan P. Carr, Rev. S. M. Bird; Presbyterians: Sam Cavitt, C. G. Wetter. Other notables who are old performers in the national pastime were: Jack M. Gordon, Cecil Estell, Ransom Cole, Albert Goodman, J. L. Brock, M. M. Erskine, O. J. Parks, W. E. Johnson, Robt. V. Armstrong, N. F. Lockard, M. Dansby, Tom G. Suber, R. C. Franks, Clarence Vick and several. There being no further business to come before the council it adjourned at 5:15 p. m. BRAZOS COUNTY BOYS AND GIRLS CLUB DEPT.

Club Notes and Farm News by County Agent C. L. Beason.

"There is so much Devil in the best of us. And so much Angel in the worst of us. That it does not become any of us To say much about the rest of us!"

The Farm Bureau News, of August 1, in speaking of Mr. J. W. L. Hall, New Boston, Texas, recently elected secretary of the cotton association and director of field service, has the following to say concerning diversification on Mr. Hall's own farm: "On his farm Mr. Hall puts 150 acres in cotton, 200 in corn, oats and other grain, 20 acres in sweet potatoes, 50 acres in hay, peas and sorghum, 25 acres in peanuts, and 10 acres in garden truck." In other words, Mr. Hall does not seem to be practicing the policy of putting "all his eggs in one basket," a policy often resulting in disaster to farmers, and at the same time bringing stagnation to all business as well. Feed crops did fairly well in Brazos county last year, but the half million in cold cash that has gone out of the county for feed stuffs this year would indicate that the production was inadequate last year.

Don't forget to prepare for a fall garden. It will furnish a lot of fresh wholesome vegetables, and at the same time cut down the family grocery bills.

Many farmers throughout the county have taken advantage of the dry weather by plowing up Bermuda patches in the field, greatly adding to the appearance of the farms, as well as preparing for greater crop production.

R. L. Jones, and son, Will, of route No. 6, have added another number to their program of diversified farming by purchasing the John Morehead dairy herd, which will be used to supply milk for the local market the by-products being used on the farm to build up their already splendid poultry industry. Since Mr. Jones has begun the work of tending his hill land this dairy herd will be a telling factor in building up the fertility of the farm.

Mrs. J. Walter Smith of Millican won the prize on Brazos Day for the best two-minute talk by saying the following: "Mr. Chairman, ladies, gentlemen and children: As you perhaps know, it has been said that Millican was dead, but before we leave here today we hope to convince you that, the dead at one time, Millican is now a live wire." Just a few months ago our community club was organized. Since that time we say, as Kipling said, 'if you don't work you die.' Wisdom is knowing what to do; skill is knowing how to do it; but real human service is characterized in the doing. I venture to say that you have heard more of Millican's success during the past eight or nine months than you have heard in that many years. Why? Because we have been doing things. In the limited time I can only outline in a very brief way some of the many things we are striving for. After the outline has been given I believe you will agree with me in saying that an community that beats Millican will be keeping pace with such lines of endeavor and accomplishment as it has never before known.

1. Organize in a business way.
 2. Have definite plans.
 3. Provide a motive for young people.
 4. Employ more efficient teachers.
 5. Erect a brick school building.
 6. Improve all living conditions.
 7. Clean up. Paint up. Beautify.
 8. Promote thrift and industry.
 9. Public barbecue; rural life conference; annual community fair.
- When these community forces and factors are in operation, and when these conditions to which and for which Millican is striving, are obtained, we shall be, to you dear Tabor and others, a light by day and a star by night. I thank you."

Mr. Chas. E. Baughman of the Warehouse and Markets, Austin, in speaking at the recent Short Course, told of the tracing of a car of cabbage from San Benito valley to Kansas City. The farmer first sold the cabbage at $6 a ton. After they had been sold 28 times it was found that they had been sold finally for $107.50 profit per ton. Is it any wonder that a big banker like Clarence Holland should be heard to say: "The world seems upside down."

Mr. Christi, director of Indiana Extension Service, reminded his audience at the recent Short Course that he had heard County Agents tell of the fame of the plains country and boast of the products of the coast, but he had not heard any one boasting of a section leading in "good homes." Mr. Christi believes that in providing good homes and modern conveniences is one of the secrets of contentment on the farm.

Most of the farmers who planted early maturing varieties of corn this year will have ample supply of feed, while many of those who planted late maturing varieties will have to depend on the feed stores. Farmers having a dependable variety of corn may improve this corn from year to year by field selection. A fairly good plan is to attach a box to the side of the wagon body so that the best ears from the best stalks may be thrown into the box at gathering time for later culling and selection.

Monday of this week was field day with the boys and girls of the Tabor club. Promptly at 1:30 p. m. several cars left the high school to visit the many club projects, consisting of standard bred poultry, registered hogs standard varieties of cotton and corn etc. Every home visited had standard bred poultry and most of them had registered hogs. Corn and cotton had suffered as a result of the dry weather but the trip revealed some good corn and cotton. Winnie Harris had a very fine patch of cotton, some stalks showing more than a hundred bolls. Ezra Bozenta stated that his flock of 30 S. C. White Leghorns had laid 4,000 eggs since the 5th of February, when he began keeping record.

Mr. T. J. Conway who accompanied the party to give instruction on poultry said he was agreeably surprised to see so many nice country homes, such as were seen at John Smith's, H. A. Benbow's, J. W. Harris' Geo. P. Edge's, F. W. Locke's, J. L. Sample's and others along the route.

A. W. Buchanan and Miss Blodgett, district agents, accompanied the club and expressed themselves delighted with the trip and the condition of the several club projects. Keep your eye on the Tabor club for a good report this fall. What other club would like to have a field day? Suppose we have another county-wide club meeting? Let's hear from you club members. Prof. and Mrs. R. O. Allen have very kindly offered to let us meet on their beautiful lawn at Allen Academy. All the world seems anxious to extend a helping hand to club members endeavoring to make life happier and better.

Now is the time to select and prepare club exhibits. Don't neglect. Mr. and Mrs. E. T. McKinney of Marlin; Dr. Earnest Hill of Houston; and W. M. Hill of Tyler who have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Beard of College have returned to their respective homes.

WATERMELONS DOWN ON FARM UP IN CITY

(Special to The Eagle)

Weatherford, Texas, Aug. 8.—The railroad strike has greatly increased truck transportation for marketing in this section, according to farmers. This is true particularly with the watermelon crop, it is said. Due to fear of lack of delivery by railroad local shippers have taken to the truck and are marketing large quantities of the watermelon crop in this way. The lack of transportation caused the price of watermelons to go down and made a loss to the farmer. It caused the price to increase in the cities so that the profiteer got his anyway.

WILL MOVE FOR NEW TEXAS CONSTITUTION LEGISLATURE IN 1923

(Dallas News Special.)
Austin, Texas, Aug. 9.—Representative Lee J. Rountree of Bryan, who was here to attend the Engineers' Conference called by Governor Neff, says the first resolution he will introduce when the regular session meets next January will provide for holding a constitutional convention and avers that he has been promised much support. He says the Constitution should be especially revised as to the educational system, the highways and the flood control or reclamation provisions, as well as providing for orderly legislation that is, ample sessions and ample pay for the work now confronting the solons of a great state. The Constitution of 1876 is a grand old document. Representative Rountree says, but it was made when Texas had 750,000 people and she now has 5,000,000.

All of the provisions mentioned by him, he asserts, have become obsolete and must be revised and modernized. He further declared that there is no authority in law for obtaining the large amounts of aid from the Federal Government for highways and that Texas should take the necessary steps to guarantee this aid in various forms.

EPISCOPAL CLERGY IS BEING BETTER PAID

(Special to The Eagle.)
New York, Aug. 10.—A horizontal increase in the salaries of Episcopal clergymen during the past two years, ranging from 10 to 35 percent, is noted in the Report of the National Wide Campaign Department of the church which will be submitted to the Episcopal General Convention at Portland, Oregon in September. Salaries have been increased twice during that period, the total increase for 1920 amounting to $1,418,000 and for 1921 $997,000; these figures being based on reports of the Church Pension Fund into which the various parishes pay premiums based on the amount of salary paid the clergy. The general convention of 1919, in approving the National Wide Campaign of the church by unanimous resolution urged "as a primary obligation, the payment to every clergyman of such a salary as shall enable him to do his work as a leader of the Church with efficiency and self-respect." In calling attention to the manner in which this obligation has been met, Rev. R. Bland Mitchell, Corresponding Secretary of the Campaign Department says: "Prior to the National Wide Campaign the minimum standard for a single man ranged from $600 to $1200 a year. For married men the minimum ranged from $1,000 to $1,500, in some instances a rectory above quoted had been increased in nearly every case so that today single men are receiving from $1300 to $1800 a year, in many cases with rectories in addition; and married men are receiving from $1500 to $2000, plus, in nearly every case a rectory or its equivalent. There are a very few instances in which salaries have not been increased from 10 to 35 percent since the inception of the campaign. In every single case where an average of salaries of all the clergy in the diocese was reported, the average for 1921 shows an increase over the average for 1919." These figures refer to salaries paid to rectors exclusively. No report is made as to the salaries of bishops. The highest salary paid to a rector is $18,000, which comes from the Diocese of New York. In 1919 the highest paid a rector in the New York diocese was $15,000.

KURTEN PICNIC AUGUST 17

TRUBULENT ACTIVITIES

One sweetly, consoling thought for the Texan nowadays is that he isn't a chief actor in the run-off campaign. —Dallas Journal.

Another sweetly, consoling thought for the average Texan is that he isn't in politics at all. The more one sees of politics these latter days, the more he is convinced that the less one has to do with it the better off he is. —Denton Record-Chronicle.

We might apply this logic to many activities. There is a rumormongering in labor, religious and business world. Men are whipped because they will not work and because they work. There is tautness in such cities as Houston, Dallas, San Antonio over religious matters and in some towns business is wrought up to fever heat. Of course in the smaller towns like Denton and Bryan we do not feel the strain of the strife and abuse of the officers of the law and feel the sting of religious war. We haven't even had a swearing match in the U. S. Senators race. In Brazos county politics are so quiet that we cannot even tell there is a run-off on August 26. It depends on where you are as to whether you have turbulent crime religion, politics or business.

ROADSIDE ADVERTISING

Formerly many business men used to erect little signs along the road-sides advertising their business. As all kinds of advertising helps some, this may have had effect, though commonly the signs got so defaced by weather and target practice by boys that they did not give a favorable impression. Nowadays people go so fast in automobiles that they may not read a sign unless it is a large and staring creation that defaces the beauty of the country scenes.

Some farmers think it pays to allow the sides of their buildings to be covered with circus posters or painted notices. In so doing they give valuable advertising for less than it is worth to them. A well painted set of buildings is good advertising for any farmer, but when he allows his walls and roofs to be used in the interest of some other party, he takes attention away from his own product and diverts it to some other fellow. —Corpus Christi Times.

FREE BAPTISTS ROMP ON EPISCOPALIANS

(By C. S. Beckwith)
The railroads run their trains on schedule. If they didn't the tracks would be blocked with traffic and accidents would be numerous. The Sunday school league did not start their game on schedule time Tuesday eve and that was what caused those dark grey clouds with their silver lining tucked away out of sight to hang over Allen Academy and threatened the very existence of the Sunday school league. On Wednesday evening it was different, the Golden Glow of an August sunset spread over the landscape, lending an air of enchantment. The fans were watching one of the prettiest games of baseball the league has come out. It was full of pep and snappy playing and marred by very few errors. Royder and Neddalek pitched gilt-edge baseball and at no time were they in serious trouble, as the low score will indicate. The Free Baptists were there with the necessary bingle when it meant something in the run columns. In the first part of the fifth the Episcopalists could have tied the score with a hit. Carl should have put in a pinch hitter. "Bill" Poindexter is one of the best officials we have had the privilege to witness. The way he handles the players and indication is a pleasure indeed. But the fans want you and the league needs you, come out and officiate every game. There was some discussion along the side lines regarding the decision of Umpire Poindexter when he called Geo. Symonds out at the plate. This play was between the runner and umpire, from the umpire's position it looked as though he touched him and the umpire must at all times render his decisions as he sees them, therefore the umpire's decision was correct. Ed Martin of Davis Switch was on the side lines again but the game was over before Ed got warmed up. In passing, I might state that Geo. Symonds made a three base out. The Episcopal and Free Baptist teams are to be commended in the brand of baseball they played last evening that is what the fans want. Keep it up.

Batteries: Free Baptists: Royder and Jones; Episcopal: Neddalek and Jones. Umpires: Poindexter and Spell. Time 40 minutes.

GAINESVILLE UNDER TEXAS RANGER RULE

Austin, Texas, Aug. 9.—The entire town of Gainesville was placed under the provisions of the open port law by Governor Neff late last night. A detachment of state rangers under Ranger Captain W. L. Wright has been ordered there to enforce the law. The open port law was invoked following information given the governor in a conference Sunday with rangers who have been to Gainesville recently. In making the announcement the governor called attention to the provisions of the law allowing offenders to be tried in counties adjoining the one in which the law is in effect. He also pointed out that "almost any offense" is a felony under the open port law, for instance numerous misdemeanors under the other laws would be felonies under the open port law.

PROF. ALLEN RETURNS FROM TRIP TO HOUSTON

Prof. R. O. Allen returned today from Houston where he has been since last Thursday in the interest of Allen Academy. Prof. Allen is very much encouraged over the prospects for the coming year and feels sure that the Academy will have the greatest number of students out of the Houston district in the history of the institution. He predicts also for the school the greatest enrollment in its history and the splendid encouragement he received from interviews with the parents of prospective students makes this assured. Prof. Allen was the recipient of many social courtesies being honor guest at the Lawyers Club and Canopus Club. In this short time he didn't begin to cover the territory so will return in a few days for further work in the Houston territory. It is gratifying to the entire citizenship of Bryan and Brazos county to know the Academy is held in so high esteem and has such a good record over the state for developing real men.

SHOWERS ARE FALLING

Showers are falling in Brazos county and have been since Tuesday and soon disappear on the parched earth. The heavier downpours were at Wellborn, College, about five miles west of Bryan and in the Tabor community. The drouth has had a fearful effect on cotton but the result of showers now are problematical at this late day and will perhaps do more harm than good—except break the heat wave.

LATEST BULLETINS RECEIVED BY RADIO AT BRYAN STATION

At 11:30 o'clock this morning Mrs. M. R. Bentley "listened in" on WEAY Houston and received over her radio phone the following interesting news: "Rail strike continues serious. If the railroad executives hold out for their terms in seniority one fourth of the men out on strike can never go back at all because they are over the age for the railroads to accept them without seniority prestige." President Stone of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers says conditions are dreadful at Cleveland. President Harding is drawing up plans for seizure of both railroads and mines which he will present to Congress on August 15th, asking for their endorsement if there has been no change in the meantime. President Harding says he has abandoned all hope of a amicable settlement. All K.K.K. candidates have won in Arkansas elections, unofficial returns show the results to be a landslide.

ARKANSAS LOOKING FOR RECORD VOTE IN PRIMARIES TOMORROW

Little Rock, Ark., Aug. 9.—A number of contests and vigorous campaigning are expected to bring a record vote to the polls for the Arkansas Democratic state primary election. Predictions are that the total vote cast for favorable weather, will reach 140,000. The total vote for governor in the last general election was 190,113. The Ku Klux Klan, while an unknown factor, is expected to play some part in the outcome of the election. While most of the fights are within various counties throughout the state for county offices, it is believed in some quarters that ardentians both for and against the Klan will effect state wide election results. In several counties according to newspaper reports, the Klan had secret elections to determine which of two or more klans members, candidates for the same office, should be supported by the Klan and file as candidates for the nomination. In Little Rock, headquarters for most of the candidates for state offices, the Klan, according to an account published in the Arkansas Gazette, indorsed an entire state ticket.

WILL MOVE FOR NEW TEXAS CONSTITUTION LEGISLATURE IN 1923

(Dallas News Special).
Austin, Texas, Aug. 9.—Representative Lee J. Rountree of Bryan, who was here to attend the Engineers' Conference called by Governor Neff, says the first resolution he will introduce when the regular session meets next January will provide for holding a constitutional convention and avers that he has been promised much support. He says the Constitution should be especially revised as to the educational system, the highways and the flood control or reclamation provisions, as well as providing for orderly legislation that is, ample sessions and ample pay for the work now confronting the solons of a great state. The Constitution of 1876 is a grand old document. Representative Rountree says, but it was made when Texas had 750,000 people and she now has 5,000,000. All of the provisions mentioned by him, he asserts, have become obsolete and must be revised and modernized. He further declared that there is no authority in law for obtaining the large amounts of aid from the Federal Government for highways and that Texas should take the necessary steps to guarantee this aid in various forms.

EPISCOPAL CIERGY IS BEING BETTER PAID

(Special to The Eagle).
New York, Aug. 10.—A horizontal increase in the salaries of Episcopal clergymen during the past two years, ranging from 10 to 35 per cent, is noted in the Report of the National Wide Campaign Department of the church which will be submitted to the Episcopal General Convention at Portland, Oregon in September. Salaries have been increased twice during that period, the total increase for 1920 amounting to $1,418,000 and for 1921 $997,000; these figures being based on reports of the Church Pension Fund into which the various parishes pay premiums based on the amount of salary paid the clergy. The general convention of 1919, in approving the National Wide Campaign of the church by unanimous resolution, agreed "as a primary obligation, the payment to every clergyman of such salary as shall enable him to do his work as a leader of the Church with efficiency and self-respect." In calling attention to the manner in which this obligation has been met, Rev. E. Bland Mitchell, Corresponding Secretary of the Campaign Department says: "Prior to the National Wide Campaign the minimum standard for a single man ranged from $600 to $1200 a year. For married men the minimum ranged from $1,000 to $1,500, in some instances a rectory being also supplied. Since the National Wide Campaign the minimum above quoted have been increased in nearly every case so that today single men are receiving from $1300 to $1800 a year, in many cases with rectories in addition; and married men are receiving from $1500 to $2000 plus, in nearly every case a rectory or its equivalent. There are a very few instances in which salaries have not been increased from 10 to 35 per cent since the inception of the campaign. In every single case where an average of salaries of all the clergy in the diocese was reported, the average for 1921 shows an increase over the average for 1919." These figures refer to salaries paid to rectors exclusively. No report is made as to the salaries of bishops. The highest salary paid to a rector is $18,000, which comes from the Diocese of New York. In 1919 the highest paid a rector in the New York diocese was $15,000.

Comparative literature and a course in radical, conservative and reactionary tendencies in present day morals are the subjects Mrs. Crawford has selected. She says the flappers don't study as hard as the girl of half a century ago, but they acquire a more intelligent outlook.

TURBULENT ACTIVITIES

One sweetly, consoling thought for the Texan nowadays is that he isn't a chief actor in the run-off campaign. —Dallas Journal.
Another sweetly, consoling thought for the average Texan is that he isn't in politics at all. The more one sees of politics these latter days, the more he is convinced that the less one has to do with it the better off he is. —Denton Record-Chronicle.
We might apply this logic to many activities. There is a rumormongering in the labor, religious and business world. Men are whipped because they will not work and because they do work. There is taunting in such cities as Houston, Dallas, San Antonio over religious matters and in some towns business is wrought up to fever heat. Of course in the smaller towns like Denton and Bryan we do not feel the strain of the strife and abuse of the forces of the law and feel the sting of religious war. We haven't even had a swearing match in the U. S. Senators race. In Brazos county politics are so quiet that we cannot even tell there is a run-off on August 26. It depends on where you are as to whether you have turbulent crime, religion, politics or business.

ROADSIDE ADVERTISING

Formerly many business men used to erect little signs along the road-sides advertising their business. At all kinds of advertising helps some this may have had effect, though commonly the signs got so defaced by weather and target practice by boys that they did not give a favorable impression. Nowadays people go so fast in automobiles that they may not read a sign unless it is a large and staring creation that defies the beauty of the country scenes.
Some farmers think it pays to allow the sides of their buildings to be covered with circus posters or painted notices. In so doing they give valuable advertising for less than it is worth to them. A good advertising set of buildings is good advertising for any farmer, but when he allows his walls and roofs to be used in the interest of some other party, he takes attention away from his own product and diverts it to some other fellow. —Corpus Christi Times.

FREE BAPTISTS ROMP ON EPISCOPALIANS

Free Baptists 3; Episcopalians 2 (By C. S. Beckwith)
The railroads run their trains on schedule if they didn't the tracks would be blocked with traffic and accidents would be numerous. The Sunday school league did not start their game on schedule time Tuesday eve and that was what caused those dark grey clouds with their silver lining tucked away out of sight to hang over Allen Academy and threatened the very existence of the Sunday school league.
On Wednesday evening it was different, the Golden Glow of an August sunset spread over the landscape, lending an air of enchantment. The fans were watching one of the prettiest games of baseball the league has come out. It was full of pep and snappy playing and marred by very few errors. Royder and Neddale pitched gilt-edge baseball and at no time were they in serious trouble, as the low score will indicate. The Free Baptists were there with the necessary bingle when it meant something in the run columns. In the first part of the fifth the Episcopalists could have tied the score with a hit. Carr should have put in a pinch hitter. "Bill" Pindexter is one of the best officials we have had the privilege to witness. The way he handles the players and indication is a pleasure indeed. But the fans want you and the league needs you, come out and officiate every game. There was some discussion along the side lines regarding the decision of Umpire Pindexter when he called Geo. Symonds out at the plate. This play was between the runner and umpire, from the umpire's position it looked as though he touched him and the umpire must at all times render his decisions as he sees them, therefore the umpire's decision was correct. Ed Martin of Davis Switch was on the side lines again but the game was over before Ed got warmed up. In passing, I might state that Geo. Symonds made a three base clout. The Episcopal and Free Baptist teams are to be commended in the brand of baseball furnished last evening, that is what the fans want. Keep it up.
Batteries: Free Baptists: Royder and Jones; Episcopal: Neddale and Jones. Umpires: Pindexter and Spell. Time 40 minutes.

Besides these regular boards, bureaus and commissions Governor Neff was called on to appoint the members of the investigating committee on Texas Institutions of Higher Learning and the Advisory Board of the American Legion Memorial Sanatorium at Kerrville. Both of these were created by the last legislature.
Excepting two, Governor Neff has appointed the members of all of these bodies. Where the appointments of members extended over into his term they, of course, remained in office. A great majority of the members were reappointed by Governor Neff. The members of the State Board of Embalming are appointed by the State Board of Health and the members of the Industrial Commission were appointed by Governor Hobbs.
Governor Neff's first appointment was made on the day of his inauguration. It was that of Captain J. A. Herring as chairman of the State Prison Commission. The governor had already decided on this appointment and when inaugurated he announced it. Added to this multiplicity of appointments to be made are hundreds of other minor appointments the Governor is called upon to make.

GAINESVILLE UNDER TEXAS RANGER RULE

Austin, Texas, Aug. 9.—The entire town of Gainesville was placed under the provisions of the open port law by Governor Neff late last night. A detachment of state rangers under Ranger Captain W. L. Wright has been ordered there to enforce the law. The open port law was invoked following information given the governor in a conference Sunday with rangers who have been to Gainesville recently. In making the announcement the governor called attention to the provisions of the law allowing offenders to be tried in counties adjoining the one in which the law is in effect. He also pointed out that "almost any offense" is a felony under the open port law; for instance numerous misdemeanors under the other laws would be felonies under the open port law.

PROF. ALLEN RETURNS FROM TRIP TO HOUSTON

Prof. R. O. Allen returned today from Houston where he has been since last Thursday in the interest of Allen Academy. Prof. Allen is very much encouraged over the prospects for the coming year and feels sure that the Academy will have the greatest number of students out of the Houston district in the history of the institution. He predicts also for the school the greatest enrollment in its history and the splendid encouragement he received from interviews with the parents of prospective students makes this assured. Prof. Allen was the recipient of many social courtesies being honor guest at the Lawyers Club and Canopus Club. In this short time he didn't begin to cover the territory so will return in a few days for further work in the Houston territory. It is gratifying to the entire citizenship of Bryan and Brazos county to know the Academy is held in so high esteem and has such a good record over the state for developing real men.

SHOWERS ARE FALLING

Showers are falling in Brazos county and have been since Tuesday and soon disappear on the parched earth. The heavier downpours were at Wellborn, College about five miles west of Bryan and in the Tabor community. The drought has had a fearful effect on cotton but the result of showers now are problematical at this late day and will perhaps do more harm than good—except break the heat wave.

LATEST BULLETINS RECEIVED BY RADIO AT BRYAN STATION

At 11:30 o'clock this morning Mrs. M. R. Bentley "listened in" on WEAY Houston and received over her radio phone the following interesting news: "Rail strike continues serious. If the railroad executives hold out for their terms in seniority one fourth of the men out on strike can never go back at all because they are over the age for the railroads to accept them without seniority preference. President Stone of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers says conditions are dreadful at Cleveland. President Harding is drawing up plans for seizure of both railroads and mines which he will present to Congress on August 15th, asking for their endorsement if there has been no change in the meantime. President Harding says he has abandoned all hope of a amicable settlement.

ARKANSAS LOOKING FOR RECORD VOTE IN PRIMARIES TOMORROW

Little Rock, Ark., Aug. 9.—A number of contests and vigorous campaigning are expected to bring a record vote to the polls for the Arkansas Democratic state primary election. Predictions are that the total vote cast with favorable weather, will reach 140,000. The total vote for governor in the last general election was 190,113. The Ku Klux Klan, while an unknown factor, is expected to play some part in the outcome of the election. While most of the fights are within various counties throughout the state for county offices, it is believed in some quarters that animosities both for and against the Klan will effect state wide election results. In several counties according to newspaper reports, the Klan had secret elections to determine which of two or more klans members, candidates for the same office, should be supported by the Klan and file as candidates for the nomination. In Little Rock, headquarters for most of the candidates for state offices, the Klan, according to an account published in the Arkansas Gazette, endorsed an entire state ticket.
